Court of Oyer and Terminer.
Before Hon. Judge Leonard.

Jan. 18.—The case of Xavier Hockreiter, charged with the murder of Leonard Gander in December last, was brought up this morning, and the testimony of witnesses commenced. The principal witnesses are Germans, and the examination is very tedious, an interpreter being necessary. The court room was crowded, principally by Germans, and much interest appeared to be manifest ed in the examination. As there are a large number of witnesses, the case will last some time.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

FRIDAY, Jan. 18-6 P. M. There is no change in the money market. Seven is hardly a fair quotation for paper, though some exceptional names pass at that figure. The combination of bank managers met to-day, and came to a resolution in reference to the award of Treasury notes to be made to-morrow at Washington. Of course the result of their deliberation has not transpired. It seems to be generally supposed that they bid for the whole loan at a lower rate of interest than their last bid. Quite a large number of private bidders made their deposits at Mr. Cisco's office, and there is a fair prospect from present appearances that the competition will be lively. It seems to be supposed that most of the notes will be taken at from 8 a 9 per cent. The government, we understand, will need no more money before the 4th of March.

Foreign exchange is quite firm; the leading bankers ask 106 a 1/2-mercantile bills being scarce. Rates still leave a profit on the importation of specie from Europe, and we may expect remittances for some weeks to come. A large amount is expected per Asia.

The stock market was rampant at one time this morning, and the advance in prices was general-Burlington and Quincy advanced 4 per cent; Rock Island, 21/2; Galena, 3; Michigan Central, 2; Pacific Mail, 2; Reading, 1½; guaranteed, 1; and other stocks rather less. After the board there was some realizing, and prices were lower at the close, though steady. The advance in the railroad shares is predicated on the large increase in the earnings over last year, showing that political agitations do not affect them injuriously. The general buoyancy of the market appears to be ascribed to some private understanding that the republi-cans in Congress are going at last to make the concessions demanded of them by the South. Missouris advanced one per cent to-day, Tennessees 1/4. Treasury notes ¼. The following were the last quotations of the day:—United States 5's 1874, 92¾ a 93; Virginia 6's, 75¼ a 76; Tennessees, 74¾ a 75; Missouri 6's, 68¾ a 69; Canton, 14¼ a 15; Cumberland Coal preferred, 8 a ¼; Pacific Mail, 92 a ¼; New York Central, 79¾ a 80; Erie, 39½ a ½; New Tork Central, 13½ a 80; Eric, 39½ a ½; Hudson River, 48½ a ¾; Harlem, 15½ a ½; Harlem preferred, 38½ a 39; Reading, 45 a ½; Michigan Central, 57 a ½; Michigan Southern and Northern Indiana, 15½ a ¾; do. guaranteed, 34 a ¾; Panama, 115 a 116; Illinois Central, 85 a 1/2; Galena and Chicago, 70% a 71; Cleveland and Toledo, 35% a 1/4; Chicago and Rock Island, 581/4 a 1/4; Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, 741/4 a 1/4. The progress of events at the South renders it pretty certain that, however this secession drama may end, a total reconstruction of the internal commerce of the United States is now inevitable. It cannot be expected that Northern merchants will ever again carry on the business they have heretofore carried on with the South on the same terms as heretofore. In at least four Southern States the repudiation, for a time or altogether, of debts due to the North is being gravely discussed. Governor Brown, of Georgia, recommends the confiscation of property belonging to Northern men. Stay laws, applicable only to debts due to the North, have been introduced into the Legislatures of Mississippi and Louisiana. An act has passed one branch of the Legislature of South Carolina postponing the payment of all debts due to Northern men till after the 31st of December next. A similar measure appears to have passed one house in the Georgia Legislature also. It is not our purpose to discuss the merits of these various measures, so far as the interests of the cotton States are concerned. Those States will discover soon enough that legislative interference with the natural laws of trade is always hurtful. But what we desire just now to point out is the reconstruction of our commercial system which these Southern movements will involve. Heretofore the South has bought all its goods here on credit. Six and eight months' paper have been the usual terms on which our jobbers have supplied the South with dry goods and general merchandise; and it must be stated, in justice to the South, that the trade has been a profitable one to New York; that, in an average of several years, the Southern buyers have met their paper honorably as it matured, and that, whatever some States may have done, individual Southern merchants have hardly ever been heard to hint at repudiation. From these causes Southern merchants en-Joyed a higher credit here, as a rule, than merchants from the West or the East; and New York houses in the Southern trade occupied the first rank in commercial circles. The events now transpiring at the South tend to change all this. It is not natural to suppose that New York houses will hereafter be willing to grant long credits to citizens of States which have passed or even seriously discussed stay laws discriminating against Northern people. Southern credit will fall as low as the credit of Wisconsin fell before her people began to think of redeeming their character. And instead of consuming the proceeds of each cotton crop in advance, the outh will now have to wait till the cotton is grown, shipped and turned into cash before they on supply their wants. In the meantime, the events which have caused this depreciation of Southern credit have increased the financial strength and power of New York to an unexampled extent. New York new holds, in bank and Sub-Treasury, very halfe less than thirty-five milthat gold must come here from Europe to Southern trade this sealions of specie; and exchange is held at 106-so son; but there is reason to believe that it will erjoy a trade with the West and North which will more than make up for the loss, The West, after three years of poverty and economies, is at length able to buy, and buy largely; it needs ary goods, groceries, everything. These it will this year be the business of New York to import and supply. As the business will be a cash trade, the West sending forward its produce as fast as it it gets the goods, and as Europe needs

fore, that we shall witness an easy money market stiend the funeral, from the residence of Mr. Robert karsh, corner of Clinton and Vanduzer streets, Tompkinsville, Staten Island, this (Saturday) afternoon, at one o'clock. His remains will be taken to the Presbyterian Burial Ground, Stapleton, for interment.

Seatch harpers please comp changes of still graver importance may follow, if all the cotton States secede and the staple be forced to seek an outlet at the North. To these we may hereafter refer.

The following was the business of the Sub-Treastry to-day:-morning were $16,901,835 48, and the balances

Money for real business purposes is abundant; indeed it never was more so in this city. Good paper is wanted, and discounts are readily obtained at 10 per cent. Outside operations cannot manage to get much above the regular bank rate of discount; the fact is, the first class paper is scarce at any price. The total receipts of flour, grain and hogs at the St. Louis Democrat, under date of Monday evening, January 14, thus remarks:—

The week opens with only a small supply of exchange, and some heavy institutions are only solling for coin, charging ½ premium for sight on the East and 1 per cent on New Orleans for small drafts. For currency and bankable funds the selling rate is 7 per cent on the East and 8 premium on New Orleans. Some of the banks drawing for their regular customers at 1 a 2 premium. Gold is 5½ a 6 premium, and silver 5 premium. Illinois and Wisconsin currency is sold at par for Missouri. The offerings at bank are light of business paper. Bills of sixty days are not much sought by bankers.

The Cincinnati Gazette thus notices the aspect.

THE DRY GOODS TRADE.

The following is a comparative statement of the imeince January 1 — 1859. ports of foreign dry goods at New York for the week and For the week, 1500, 1500, 1500, 1500, 1501 Since January 1.
Entered at the port. $3,670,757 5,818,715 5,236,751
Thrown on market... 3,612,502 5,438,094 2,640,165

By the above table it will be seen that the dry goods entered at this port the past week fell below those for the same period during both in 1809 and 1860. The state-ment contrasts strongly, both in the amount of entries as well as in the amount thrown upon the market, with that given for the same period in 1860. The aggregate entries since the 1st inst. shows also some decline, com-pared with that for the same time last year, while the aggregate amount thrown upon the market is not half as $838,788. We annex the following tables of particulars:-Wool- Phos. Value. Silk- Phys. Value.

$1,832,850 There having been no clearance for China the present week the exports of cotton domestic goods were light, as will be seen from the following statement of exports from New York for the week ending the 18th of Janu ary:-Value. $2,318 14,206 5,012 748 1,560 8,339 $32,183

Since January 1..... 2,273 The business, both with importers and jobbers, so far has been light. Some large importing houses have not opened their stocks as yet, and others complain of limited sales compared with the same period last year. The trade looks with increased anxiety to some plan upon which political disturbances may be settled, through con-ciliation and compromise. Could union and har-mony be re-established a prosperons trade would be inaugurated. White acknowledging the force of present difficulties, many of the large houses, and espe-cially these engaged in the Southern trady, deprecate civil war, which would not fail to prove ruinous in the last de-gree to them and, as they believe, to the country at large, both North and South. They also deprecate the war feel-ing feetered and excited at the North, whether through party motives or other equally misguided causes, as caiboth North and South. They also deprecate the war feeling festered and excited at the North, whether through party motives or other equally misguided caussy, as enculated to irritate and inflame the public mind of the country to the injury of its best interests, and which cannot fail to still further embarrass general trade, which might otherwise be avoided. Large amount of goods are locked up in bonded warehouses. The amount thrown upon the market during the week in 1859 was $2.430.975, and in 1802 $4.18, 235, whereas for the past week it only reached $1.024,023. Some purchasers have appeared in market, and a straggling business has been transacted, which, however, has been very light compared with that for the same period last year. Goods continue to be held up to previous prices, but buyers do not appear to take hold freely, and, as a general thing, claim some concession in prices. Some trading is deing with Western purchasers, and some lots are being taken for shipment to California. In domestic cotten goods trade is fair and lyrices steady. Heavy brown sheetings and shirtings were sustained with a steady expert demand. Prills were firmer and advanced ½c, per yard since the news of peace with China has been confirmed. We quote standard browns at $3.5c, a $3.5c, closing at the outside figure. The demand for both heavy brown sheetings, shirtings and drills is in advance of production, though mills making them run full time. Other cotton fabrics, though not active, maintained their prices. The business in dress goods, fancy cassimeres and satinets was limited. There was rather mere doing in low priced kersevs and jeans.

In foreign goods the trade was light, and many lines imited. There was rather mere doing in low priced ker-sevs and jeans.

's circular of this week.—The receipts for the week are quite liberal, embracing 19,782 from foreign and 29,766 from coastwise ports; sales foot up 34,400 hides—a fair week's business—and the stock is again augmented. Dry hides—The market has presented no new features, a moderate demand from the trade existing throughout the week, with but few of the leading descriptions afering. Most holders of the stock in store refuse to meet the views of the trade, while the latter manifest no disposition to pay the ratos demanded for them. A portion of the more common descriptions arriving, however, meet with ready sale on landing at comparatively high prices. Transactions for the week are to a fair extent, the most noticeable of which are sales of up to the average of the past six weeks.

There is a slight improvement in some qualities of pulled, from the extreme prices at the time of the panic. Winskey.—The market was more active at the close. Foreign Markets.

Honouver, Dec. 7, 1860.—Business since our last has been decidedly dull. The whalers are fast leaving our harbor, and the town is relapsing into the usual between-season duliness. The auctioneers alone have been busy. Large quantities of goods have been forced off at very low prices. Yesterday the balance of Gilman & Co.'s stock of ship chandlery, and to-day the lot of whaling gear ex brig Antilla, passed under the hammer of the auctioneer, and prices obtained were such as would convince the most sanguine that the market is much overstocked, at least with goods of that kind. In our local trade we learn of no transactions of importance to note. Prices remain the same as last quoted. No sales are being made except to whalers going out, and to supply the daily wants of the town.

Brit Resolute—The Boston Advertiser of the 18th instant says:—The following paragraph, extracted from the London-Shipping Gazette, appears to have excited appearance in regard to the safety of the ship Resolute, which was commanded by Capt Henry M'Glivery, of Stockton, Me:—

Petenhan, Dec 22—Washed on shore at Buchanhaven, yesterday, the after part of the main dock of a large ship, apparently American buth, named "Resolute," as according to the state of the main dock of a large ship, apparently American buth, named "Resolute," as according by a small mahoghy name-board, with raised glitclers, attached to a beam.

The Maine (Augusta) Emer copies the above, and after assuming as reasonable the presumption that Capt M'Glivery's arrival on the coast was very nearly coincident with the date given, proceeds to furnish a laudatory oblitary notice of Capt M'Glivery, with appropriate condolences for the widow and family. We think it altogether wrong to alarm the fears or excite the sympathics of relatives or friends unless there is some positive knowledge, or at least a strong prohability, that the casualty referred to is really one in which they are interested. In the present case we think both knowledge and probability are wanting. The ship telephane, and the probability are wanting. The ship telephane, and the probability are wanting. The ship telephane, is reterhead was less than seventeen days out, if the ship is believed capable of this numual rale of speed, there is still another reason for doubting that the disaster reported by the above extract can be applied to Captain M'Glivery's ship. SCHM MARTHA SKINNER—A letter received in Westport gives the following particulars of the wreck of above schr, which sailed from New Bedford with a party of live oakers for East Florida:—The schr arrived at East Smyrna Dec 18 and anchorad on Musquito Bar, most of the men going ashore for lighters and a steamer to tow them in. On the 19th a gale came on, and next morning an effort was made to reach the shore, but the tide cast away the vessel in the breakers. On the 22d she was boarded, and the provisions and most of the other articles belonging to her were sayed. The vessel is reported to be a total loss. A man was drowned from one of the live oak vessels last year, in the same place where the Martha Skinner was wrecked.
